Have a Christmas Coffee!

IDEAL answer to your holiday party problems this year is a charming and traditional "Coffee." You're going to entertain this Christmas, of course, but you're duty-bound to keep all parties simple, inexpensive, ration-free—and fun! A Coffee fills the bill on all counts. Coffee is plentiful in a season of shortages; a coffee party can be as simple as you want . . . and still be a conversation-stimulant, a warm, friendly gathering, an impressive occasion. Everybody will welcome an invitation to a Coffee.

Serve the coffee from a buffet: Be a charming hostess at your "Coffee" by making it a buffet party. Saves you time, steps and space, besides being an added decorative holiday note for your room. If you have a coffee service, this is the time — of all times—to take it out, dust it off and use it. A bowl of fruits and nuts, little cakes, dainty sandwiches, a bit of candy, and good coffee are all you need. But be sure to make that coffee good. Brew to the full capacity of the pot, and use enough freshly roasted and ground coffee to make the beverage strong, full-bodied and truly a "party" brew. Here's a delicious recipe for Quick Coffee Cocoa Fudge that you'll want to have made up during the whole holiday season. The recipe is tested, of course, and it's guaranteed to be popular with everyone who tastes it.

Quick Coffee Cocoa Fudge

2 tablespoons shortening
5 tablespoons hot coffee
¼ teaspoon salt
1 pound sifted confectioner's sugar
¼ cup cocoa

Place shortening and the hot coffee in top of double boiler and heat over boiling water until shortening is melted. Mix salt, sugar and cocoa and sift together. Stir in confectioners' sugar in 3 installments, beating thoroughly after each addition. If necessary, add a little more hot coffee. When mixture is well blended and smooth, remove at once from hot water, pour in greased 7x7-inch pan and cut in squares.

By BETTY BARCLAY

There was a time when new dishes appeared only on the tables of wise wives and hostesses, who were constantly trying out new recipes — because they enjoyed doing it.

Today, new dishes appear on tables because wives have to serve them. Ration points do not allow them to serve the old menu regularly. We are at war.

Do you want some novelties for the New Year? Try the following and prove that rationing is often a blessing in disguise:

Double-Feature Salad

1 box (14 oz.) quick-frozen spinach, thawed
2 tablespoons chopped pickles
1½ teaspoons minced onion
⅔ cup broken macaroni, cooked
½ cup thinly sliced celery
⅓ cup tart French dressing
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
4 tablespoons mayonnaise

Drain thawed spinach and chop coarsely. Add remaining ingredients, except mayonnaise, and mix lightly but thoroughly. Let stand in refrigerator about 20 minutes to marinate. Add mayonnaise. Serve on crisp lettuce. Garnish with raw carrot sticks. Or heat mixture and serve as a vegetable. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Mayonnaise may be omitted from mixture and served as a garnish, if desired.

You can count on the farm-fresh flavor of quick-frozen vegetables to add distinction to your holiday meals, and they give first aid to hurry up cooks, as all jobs of preparation are done before quick-freezing seals in their full quota of flavor and vitamins. By using "stretcher" recipes, you can easily expand your ration point investment in quick-frozen delicacies into extra servings.

Party Punch

2 cups canned apricots or cooked dried apricots
Juice 2 oranges
Juice 1 lemon
1 cup sweet cider

Measure apricots, adding apricot juice to fill cavities in measuring cup. Then pass through a ricer. Add orange juice, lemon juice and cider and stir. Strain. Allow to stand until chilled and dilute with ice water. Chopped candied cherries or mint leaves make an attractive garnish for this drink. Makes 3 pints.

Mincemeat Rennet-Custard

1 rennet tablet
1 tablespoon cold water
1 pint milk, not canned
2 tablespoons sugar
⅓ cup mincemeat

Make rennet-custard according to directions in package, adding sugar and mincemeat to the milk. Chill, then serve.

FOLIES BERGERE BEAUTIES DAZZLE CROWDS

Lovely showgirls of Clifford C. Fischer's all-new and dazzling Folies Bergere of 1944 watch Jean Devereaux, internationally known ballerina, spin on her toes in the brilliant production now playing nightly at Winterland, in San Francisco. There are special matinees of the Folies Bergere each Sunday.

ALERT to every occasion, the dressmaker suit is capable of meeting a well-rounded social cycle. Fine brown wool selected by CBS news reporter Bernardine Flynn drapes easily when the jacket is removed. A gold band on her brown felt hat coordinates the blouse scheme. Change the hat band color to match each of your wardrobe-stretching blouses.

Tops for Dinner

BLOUSES GO MORE THAN HALF WAY to change suit costumes into dresses. Bright as a new penny, the metallic lame blouse worn by CBS news reporter Bernardine Flynn gives dinner hour importance to c[illegible]essmaker suit of soft brown wool. Keeping the costume on a plane of conservative propriety Miss Flynn wears a simple hat of [illegible]own felt with self-trim flowers.

Hillcrest Druids Plan Whist Party

Hillcrest Circle No. 143, U. A. O. D., will give its monthly whist, Monday evening, December 27, at Masonic hall, 17 Hillcrest drive. The card party will start at 8:30 p. m. and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Chairladies are Mrs. Wilma Tringali and Miss Ida May Lasswell. A cash first prize, and many other lovely awards, are announced.

Preceding the public whist a business meeting for members of the circle will be held at 7 p. m.

"So that peace may prevail for all mankind—"

Christmastide, hallowed season of joy and happiness, this year finds all of us in America striving constantly to hasten the day of Victory. Nevertheless it is fitting that we should pause both to recall our Christmas days of yesteryear and to look forward into the future with profound confidence and hope. We people of Safeway—including those who have taken leave of absence to join the fighting forces—unite in sincerely wishing every one of you a Merry Christmas! May your families be happy and well. May your dinners be hearty. And may the Christmas prayers of all of us be answered, "So that peace may prevail for all mankind . . ."

Lemon Mincemeat, A Holiday Treat

By BETTY BARCLAY

BANBURY tarts and mincemeat pies are almost as traditional as the holiday season itself with their service beginning at Thanksgiving and then being introduced again at Christmas and New Year's. This year, though the gala season may be less festive due to the scarcity and rationing of many foods and because loved ones are away from home, still here's one small way we can retain that American way of life for those on the home front.

Lemon mincemeat is a delicious climax to the holiday menu and because it contains no meat at all, it is within the ration point budget of most homemakers. This mincemeat requires no cooking and will store nicely in your refrigerator till ready for use. So why not prepare it soon and have it ready for the holidays?

The amount given in the recipe below makes one quart, filling for two pies or about three dozen tarts. It may be sealed and kept in sterilized jars.

Lemon Mincemeat

½ cup fresh lemon juice
1 cup raisins, scalded, drained and chopped
3 cups finely chopped apple
½ cup chopped nuts
¼ cup orange or lemon marmalade
2 cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon ginger

Combine ingredients and blend thoroughly. To makes pies, add ¼ cup melted butter or a substitute for each pie, or ½ cup butter or a substitute to entire mixture if used immediately for pies or tarts.

Perfect Pastry

3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1 slightly beaten egg
3 tablespoons lemon juice
Ice water

Sift flour and salt together and cut in shortening. Add slightly beaten egg combined with lemon juice. Gradually add ice water enough to bind dough together. Roll pastry out thin and line pie plates. Bake in hot oven (475 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. (Makes three 8-inch single pie shells. Keep unbaked dough in refrigerator until needed.)

Mincemeat pie may be made with a lattice top crust, if desired. This arrangement makes the pastry go further. For the tarts (or turnovers) the pastry should be rolled to ⅛ inch thickness and cut into 4 inch squares. A rounded tablespoon of the mincemeat in each square is sufficient. Then dampen edges of pastry with water, and fold from corner to corner, to form a triangle. Crimp edges together with a floured fork, and prick the top of each turnover with a fork to let steam escape. Bake in hot oven till browned.

Lounge-About

STRATEGIC PLANNING of a far-sighted fashion designer has solved the busy woman's battle against dressing time and chilly temperatures. Wooly-warm, one-piece lounging pajamas worn by CBS actress Marguerite ("We Love and Learn") Kingbay offers a comfortable acceptance of heat-rationed living. There's graceful beauty in the full sleeves flowing from the new dropped shoulder, and the slenderizing waistline pleats give casual ease. Practical pockets and a high-style reptile-trimmed belt combine function and beauty. (From Salon Lentheric, New York.)

Holiday Cheer

BE A PART OF THE DECORATIVE holiday scene by dressing for warm comfort. There's an inside story about the chill-chasing robe worn by CBS singer Marcia ("Family Hour") Neil. Between the shell pink quilted satin and lining is an interlining of aralac which is light as a feather and warm as toast. A fine lace applique is embedded around the collar and pocket. This ideal Christmas gift comes from Lord & Taylor's in New York.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

When Emily Brontë's novel "Wuthering Heights" was made into a notable motion picture some years ago, the book sold well over half a million copies in various reprint editions. This sale was phnenomenal, for hitherto "Wuthering Heights" had never been nearly as widely read as "Jane Eyre," written by the author's sister, Charlotte Brontë, which has always been one of the most popular of English classics.

JOAN FONTAINE AS "JANE EYRE"

The forthcoming 20th Century-Fox production of "Jane Eyre" with Joan Fontaine and Orson Welles in the leading roles, will undoubtedly have a similar effect on the sale of the book. Only this time, the reprints seem to be coming out in advance of the picture. Four of them are now in the works.

One of these editions is decidedly not a "quickie" and was, as a matter of fact, planned long before the motion picture. This is the two volume edition of "Jane Eyre" and "Wuthering Heights" with woodcuts by the noted artist Fritz Eichenberg, which the Book-of-the-Month Club is currently distributing to its members as a book-dividend. Wonder what the Brontë sisters would have thought of more than 300,000 copies of their novels being distributed at one time, which is probably what the Club's edition will total!

Advice to service men who want their letters to pass the censors—from Lieutenant John Mason Brown's book, "To All Hands": "You can say you have been born, if you don't say where or why . . . and you can send kisses if you know how to spell the word and don't have to use XXXXXX's."

* * *

This story of Lincoln appears in "Long, Long Ago," a collection of the writings of the late Alexander Woollcott. Chief Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes served as a Yankee Colonel in the Civil War. His job, on one occasion, was to pilot President Lincoln around and point out the rebels' defenses. Lincoln stood up to look where he pointed, and since he made an exceptionally good target, at once from the enemy marksmen came a snarl of musketry fire. The young officer quickly dragged him under cover, yelling as he did so, "Get down, you fool." Of course, on second thought he was horrified at thus addressing the Commander-in-Chief. But Lincoln, as he was leaving, commented, "Goodby, Colonel Holmes. I'm glad to see you know how to talk to a civilian."

WHICHEVER WINS, WE ALL LOSE!

SPEEDING THE DAY OF FINAL VICTORY

The thoughts of thousands of Navy families throughout the country this Christmas are with fathers and brothers wearing the blue of the United States Navy. Doing their part to hasten the day when Navy men can once again look forward to Christmas at home are forty thousand women in blue — the WAVES — now on active duty. By making trained men available for the knockout blow against the Axis every WAVE is helping to hasten the day when our Navy's fleets return home victorious.

Telephone Co.

Telephone Company employees in San Francisco contributed a total of $17,744.16 to the San Francisco War Chest, it was announced today by Lyle M. Brown, division manager of the company, on completion of the employee canvass.

The company's own contribution, not including employee subscriptions, to the San Francisco campaign was $21,932. This is part of the $135,000 contributed by the telephone company to the current War Front and Home Front campaigns in cities throughout the Pacific coast, Brown stated.
